DESCRIPTION

Recently built, this country house, which has prioritized the respect for the environment and architecture of Ibiza, combines style and functionality. One kilometre from the beautiful beach of Figueral and three from the magical San Carlos, this house is surrounded by pine trees and bucolic fields. The Mediterranean light bathes every room of this splendid house developed on one level, giving priority of accessibility to users

The main entrance is from a typical Ibiza porch, from there you reach the spacious and bright living room, with two clearly differentiated areas. The corridor is more than two meters wide, so it is a pleasant space that recalls former traditional architecture. The four double rooms have beautiful views of the garden as well as the picturesque landscape surrounding the entire construction. The modern and functional kitchen has all the equipment.

But if there is a more idyllic place in this house, no doubt there are the outdoor spaces. The careful design of the verandas, garden and swimming pool, will make you feel all the advantages of Mediterranean way of life. You will enjoy nature and peace swimming during the naps or in your moments of leisure in company, in any of the two cosy porches.

All the materials used in the construction are of the highest quality, combining quality design and respect for the architecture of past generations. The house has central heating and air conditioning, so the temperature is always very pleasant.

Call us to concert a visit to this exclusive villa and value the possibility of making a dream come true.
